

ABSTRACT

A process for oxidation with oxygen of at least one aromatic hydrocarbon having oxidizable, substituents that maximizes the utilization of oxygen without reduction in the 5 quality of the carboxylic acid products produced by means of a stagewise countercurrent oxidation system is disclosed.